(REPLY.)

Woolwry, Monacore.

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your requisition, calling on me to allow myself to be put in nomination as a candidate to represent the district of Cooma and Benambra in the

This request (signed as it is by most of the respectable and independent electors) is in the highest degree gratifying to my feelings. I thank you most heartily for the honour you have done me, and feel proud that I stand so high in the opinion of the electors of the district in which I have spent the best half of my life.

I have always been of opinion that a country district ought to be represented by one resident in, or directly connected with it, and for this reason I consent to become a candidate for your representation; but I regret that some

Should I be promoted, I shall endeavour, to, as best of my ability, to promote the interests of the colony in general, and of the district of Monrovia in particular.

When the writ is issued, I shall be happy to explain my sentiments more fully.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,
Your most obedient servant,
ALEXANDER HAMILTON.

TO R. DONALD, Esq.—Sir,—I have to express my thanks to the Electors of the Globe and Balmora, and I regret to say that nothing but the untimely death of my late brother, and from regard to his memory, prevented my meeting them, for, if they are of the same opinion as myself, my obligations were so great as to require me to make a visit and proper acknowledgments. I am, however, very much pleased in taking my seat on the reformed Parliament as their representative.

It would be needless for me, although perfectly independent of the Electors, to thank them, as I am a supporter of the measure, and I am, therefore, bound to consider the measures which they passed very different of the people. My political career must, therefore, be kept down to them, and requires no confirmation at my hands.

Under the present form of Government the electors, thanks to the Hailloo—can choose their own representative without any coercion being used, and it will be the electors' fault if they do not send fit and proper persons to represent them.

I am, Sir, yours,
JOHN CAMPBELL.
Campbell's Wharf, Sydney, 7th June.
To R. Donald, Esq., Secretary to the Committee.

(Here follow 420 signatures).

Chambers, Elm-street, 17th May, 1859.

GENTLEMEN—I have to acknowledge, with pride and gratification, the very flattering resolution which has just been passed in my hands.

As my views on most of the great subjects of the day are published in the West Canadian, I have no need to

Should you again do me the honor of returning me as the representative of my native country, I shall perseveringly endeavour to discharge my duty to yourselves and to the country with fidelity and energy.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,
Your faithful servant,
WILLIAM V. WILD.

To the 430 gentlemen signing the requisition.

of the 2nd. ward, by his Excellency the Governor-General, I hereby give notice that a PUBLIC MEETING of Electors of the Electoral District of West Sydney will be held at Wyndham-square, at 10 o'clock on SATURDAY, the eleventh day of June proximo, for the purpose of electing and Election of Four Members to serve in the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales, for the said Electoral District.

In the event of such election being contested, and a Poll being taken, the Polling will take place on SUNDAY, the twelfth day of June proximo, at the place erected in Wyndham-square.

Returning Officer for the Electoral District of West Sydney, Sydney, 10th May.

mile for roads, Gosford ought to have £2. What structure had come into the harbour was believed for a long time to be a monument to the memory of a man. In its liberality, he paid a pilot. In England, in harbour-barbours, security was erected at a trifling expense, enabling boats to land in the most secure safety; why should not some similar plan be adopted here? He was surprised that a vessel possessing the highest degree of safety should be so little in request. Why, land at wharves, and not at the foot of the pier, whilst in this district, necessitating supercargo agents, an acre could be purchased for £3. Government was much for Wollongong and other harbours, why not for this? His connection with Brisbane Water (and he was anxious to national character which could be equalled probably in no other part of the world. I believe that the national cohesion of China during past and unprecedented periods of time, amid the ruin of surrounding empires and the frequent changes of her own rulers, was due to the fact that the Chinese people were united by the temporal precepts annexed to the fifth commandment, "Honor thy father and thy mother, which is the first commandment, that all may be well with thee, and thou mayest be long in the land." The Lord thy God doth dwell there.

It may appear strange that a people who pay such respect to their parents and show such reverence to age, should generally be supposed to have none of the kindly feelings and tender sympathy for human beings which are the basis of all civilization, and that with all my predilections in favor of the Chinese character, I must state that the reported prevalence of cannibalism in the interior of that vast territory is a fact which is not only a disgrace to all parts of the country, yet I have taken great pains to learn from the people in distant villages, and to

Any scholar thus distinguishing himself acquires a lasting honor even by his parents, for the father of a highly distinguished son is honored by the whole community. The order of mandarin. Perhaps China is the only country in the world where youth can acquire the position of a scholar without any money. I cannot say. I stated that this system of encouraging literature and punishing poor scholars has been a great evil for democratic feeling among the Chinese. When the scholars are assembled together for examination, they are anonymous. Therefore, to discuss any subject of the day is a dangerous thing. The order of the Empire of the Great Dragon is a very ancient one. The ceremonial and the formal examinations were in use of course of long time, and those examinations were the basis of the government. their eyes, and others had fractured limbs, though I believe no life was lost. All these on-falls arose from the peasant custom—such as the right to some well, or the property in some pineapple ground, or the rent of some little piece of land. The men who were killed were those who were engaged in the quarrel. They had collected in this district no taxes for about ten years, so no officer being held accountable to receive these tribute districts; and the Chinese laws were without effect, in showing these examples. I saw whole villages depopulated, the houses and fields of the people dispersed. I have reason to believe that many of these Chinese emigrants who visit your shores are men who have been driven from their homes by the same kind of disorders, and that they have sought in this land that quietude and security which they have sought in vain to find in their own country. In fact, the danger to the Manchu-Tartar dynasty
